News

Did you know that the Colonial Beach Foundation is now the Colonial Beach Community Foundation (CBCF)? A reorganization in 2018 places emphasis on community and

On March 18, the CBCF filed paperwork with the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) to transfer the license of broadcast radio station WWER from Fredericksburg Christian School (FCS) to the CBCF. FCS no longer wants the license and is community support, and embraces programs and activities throughout the surrounding area, not just within the Town of Colonial Beach. Two new logos capture the community's sense of vitality. Read the CBCF's 2018 Annual Report to learn more about where we've been and where we're going.

to give it away for Colonial Beach's benefit. The paperwork should be processed within 30 to 60 days. In the meantime, volunteers are organizing to build WWER into a radio station that informs and promotes the Town of Colonial Beach. Visit WWER's website to learn more, including how you can participate.

Do you know a child age 9 to 13 who wants to go to summer camp? The Jamestown 4-H Educational Center in Williamsburg, VA is currently accepting applications for 4-H Junior Camp (July 22-26) and the CBCF is accepting applications for financial assistance on a first-come, first-served basis.

Learn more about 4-H Junior Camp here. For application forms and information about financial assistance, contact CBCF President, Dr. Peter Fahrney: email or phone (804-224-6007). Act soon; applications are due May 3rd.

Earth Day Trash & Treasure Market

April 20th, 1 to 4 PM
Colonial Beach Community Center
717 Marshall Avenue
Rain or shine

Spring cleaning, coupled with Earth Day, presents an excellent opportunity to reduce, recycle, or reuse. For $25, which benefits the CBCF, you can reserve a 10-by-10 spot on the grounds of the Community Center to turn your

"trash" into another's "treasure."
Bring your own tables, tents, and chairs and support Earth Day and the CBCF
